DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 9, 10, 12-15, 17-19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shinma (6,444,500: figures 5-7F).

Shinma teaches an apparatus comprising: a first circular stamp (121) to apply pressure at a first portion of the mold (141), a second annular stamp (122) to apply pressure at a second portion of the mold (141) adjacent the first stamp (121), and a third annular stamp (123) to apply pressure adjacent the second stamp (122). The reference clearly teaches sequential pressure applying to the first stamp, then the second stamp and finally the third stamp and inherently teaches a control mechanism for sequential application of pressure to the mold (141). The mold release sheet (130) can also be considered a molding member as it presses against the resin (135).

3. Claims 1-5, 7, 9-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Balsano et al (5,176,922: figures 3-10).

Balsano et al teach an apparatus comprising: a first circular pressing member (34), a second annular pressing member (28) adjacent the first pressing member, a third annular pressing member (25) adjacent the second pressing member, and a fourth annular pressing adjacent the third pressing member. Each of these pressing members applies pressure to the molding die (4) through the molding cloth (38), sequentially starting with the first molding member. The control member is inherent as the pressing members sequentially apply molding pressure.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6, 8 and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: In regards to claims 6 and 20, none of the prior art of record teach or suggest an apparatus of claim 1 wherein first stamp that includes a step that extends from a side of the first stamp, and the second stamp includes an overhang that extends from a side of the second stamp, the overhang of the second stamp being positioned to contact from above the step of the first stamp. In regards to claim 8, none of the prior art of record teaches or suggests the apparatus of claim 1, wherein the mold is a microtool. The closest prior art (Balsano et al and Shinma) teaches a pizza press and a press mold for press molding and does not disclose or suggest a sequential pressing member to press the back of a flexible microtool.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
